

Hello! I adopted Pat from the ARLGP in April, 2011 and he immediately settled right in. We've become best friends and he's always curled up next to me, snoring away.

Everyone who meets Pat, who has been (sortof) renamed to Catrick Dempsey, says the same things: that he's the biggest cat they've ever seen, that he's one of the friendliest they've ever seen, and that they want to steal him and take him home!

Over Christmas Catrick and I made a trip to northern Maine where he spent the holiday snuggled up with great big dogs and ADVENTURING OUTSIDE! He loved it and I ended up going out and buying him a (dog-sized) harness and leash and taking him to the park a few times a week for outdoor time.

Catrick is truly the best cat I've ever known and he has such a wonderful personality. I feel so lucky to have him in my life!
